

A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE STARTS AT SCHOOL

Join our community of Oregon parents and teachers who help make elementary schools healthier and greener — one project at a time.

Address your school's needs through a passion project!

Set up an outdoor classroom kit

Gather a student green team

Start a gardening or habitat project

Promote walking and biking

Reduce cafeteria waste

We'll help you make a difference.

Are you a parent, teacher, or school staff in Oregon who wants to help your K-8 school thrive but don't know how to use your limited time? The Eco-School Network is here to help you achieve your sustainability vision.

- Take our free online training this February and March, with four live, online evening sessions. We'll help you choose the best project for you, engage others, and keep the project going.
- Join our network of changemakers from other schools and districts to be inspired and see what's possible. You'll get no-pressure invitations to quarterly gatherings and retreats for on-going learning, connection, and a whole lot of fun.
- Choose your own adventure. Your level of involvement is up to you: take on a simple project and be done, or start an ambitious initiative. Either way, you'll have supported your school in a meaningful way and nurtured young stewards.

Spread hope through action.
